ABOUT THE PROGRAM

- . This motivating and child-centred program has been designed to simplify the teaching of Japanese across the school, from Kindergarten to Grade 6 (from age 5 to age 12).
- . The program can be implemented by a language teacher across the school or by individual class teachers with a background in Japanese. Either way, the children's knowledge is consolidated and then extended each year.
- . The rationale behind the sequence charts is that teachers should find them easy to adapt for integration with other classroom subjects.
- . The program provides continuity between school years, consolidating language development, and increasing Japanese awareness gradually. It sets realistic goals for the children's abilities and limited classroom time.
- . This program can be used in conjunction with other programs that your school or Education Department have written. It can also be built upon by high schools.
- . The program is designed to meet the needs of students new to the Japanese language and of those who have a background in it. Newcomers will not be threatened. Neither will native speakers be bored. An enjoyable selection of classroom activities will reinforce the learning process and keep the interest of the children.
- . Extensive photocopying and endless searching for resources have been eliminated. The children are encouraged to use their creativity instead. By involving the children in development of classroom activities, they are more inspired to learn.
- . Positive Reinforcement. The constant thread of this program is the encouragement of class participation through positive reinforcement. At every opportunity, it is suggested that teachers provide small, tangible rewards for trying and verbally praise them as well.

- . The program is not set in concrete. Teachers should feel free to adjust activities to suit the children's specific needs, abilities and interests.
- . The children's reading and writing skills are heavily supported by the teacher. The children are involved in the following main learning areas on a regular basis:

- listening
- reading
- writing
- communicating
- interacting

- . The lessons in this program can be shuffled about to support other classroom work. This will help to make the program more integrated into the children's overall education, improve its effectiveness in delivery and to establish the legitimacy of foreign language learning alongside mainstream subjects at Primary levels.
- . Encourage the children to use Japanese characters where possible from Kindergarten level. By Grade 6 the children should be labelling most of their work with Japanese characters. Let the children's abilities and interests guide your decision on the best form of labelling. The over-riding concern should be to maintain a high level of children's confidence and motivation, while still keeping classroom activities challenging.
- . One of the most important features this program has to offer is the TIME it saves teachers. Teachers with an already hectic timetable will find that this program allows them to step simply through the lessons and teach effectively and successfully.
- . I wish you a happy and successful time in implementing this program.

JAPANESE LESSON 3 - TIME

Resources

KINDERGARTEN

THE CLOCK

Show the children a large clock and discuss the features. These could include the long and short hand, the second hand, the twelve numbers, electric or battery operated. Tell the children what the clock is called in Japanese. The children can repeat the word after the teacher.

Each child in the circle can tell the class what his/her special time of the day is.

Resources

YEAR THREE

MORNING, AFTERNOON AND NIGHT

Using flashcards and a large clock, revise a variety of times in Japanese. The children can find the matching flashcards from the floor. Introduce morning, afternoon and night, in Japanese using flashcards. Explain how they relate to AM and PM in English. Ask the children to think of a special time of the day. A child at a time can come to the front of the class, demonstrating his/her time on the clock. In Japanese, the child states the time and whether it is morning, afternoon or night. In English he/she also says why that time of day is special. For example:

flashcards
lg clock

What's the time now?      いまなんじですか。      Ima nanji desu ka?

It's 9.00am	ごぜんくじです。	Gozen kuji desu.
It's 1.30pm	ごごいちじはんです	Gogo ichiji han desu	flashcards
It's 5.00pm	ごごごじです。	Gogo goji desu.
It's 11.30 pm	ごごじゅういちじはんです。	Gogo juuichiji han desu.

Using paper plates, scrap pieces of cardboard and coloured paper the children can make their own bright sunny clock. Encourage the children to make the clocks on their own, unless they really need assistance.

split pins

Follow-up Activity - Time

The children can go around the class and show a variety of friends a time in Japanese, using morning, afternoon and night. The children also say what they are doing at that particular time.

YEAR SIX

ALL TIMES

Introduce the rest of the times that a clock shows. Explain to the children that once the pattern of telling the time has been learned it will be easy to tell the time in Japanese. For example:

lg clock

What's the time now? いまなんじですか。 Ima nanji desu ka?

2.00	にじです。	Niji desu.
2.12	にじじゅうにふんです。	Niji juuni fun desu.
2.15	にじじゅうごふんです。	Niji juugo fun desu.
2.20	にじにじゅうぷんです。	Niji nijuppun desu.
2.30	にじはんです。	Niji han desu.
2.40	にじよんじゅうぷんです。	Niji yonjuppun desu.
2.45	にじよんじゅうごふんです。	Niji yonjuugo fun desu.
2.48	にじよんじゅうはっぷんです。	Niji yonjuu happun desu.
3.00	さんじです。	Sanji desu.

Give all the children a piece of paper and ask them to write two times in digital form. New times are to be explored. Form the circle again and one by one, the children demonstrate their times on the clock and then say them in Japanese. Go around the circle twice.

sm paper

Follow-up Activity - Time

The children can write two more times on paper and then go around the class reading them to friends, in Japanese. The listener confirms the time or assists.
